

Rebekkah Smith Aldrich MLS, LEED AP

MI Colloquium

- Executive Director of the Mid-Hudson Library System
- Co-chair of the American Library Association's (ALA) Special Task Force on Sustainability
- Advisory board member for the ALA Center for the Future of Libraries
- Co-founder of both the ALA Sustainability Round Table and the New York Library Association's Sustainability Initiative
- Sustainability columnist for Library Journal
- Author of Sustainable Thinking: Ensuring Your Library's Future in an Uncertain World

Learn more about Rebekkah at <http://SustainableLibraries.org>

December 5, 2019

7:15 p.m. - 8:30 p.m. (event will be live-streamed and videotaped)

Scholarly Communication Center (SCC) - Alexander Library

169 College Avenue, New Brunswick, NJ 08901

Reception sponsored by RU Libraries 6:15 p.m. - 7:15 p.m.

SUSTAINABLE THINKING FOR THE FUTURE OF LIBRARIES

Sustainability is now a core value of the library profession but what does that actually mean? Get in on the ground floor of one of the most important issues facing our local and global communities. From getting a better understanding of basic concepts such as “sustainable thinking” and the “triple bottom line” of sustainability to practical, applicable ideas currently happening in the field, this session will help prepare you to become a leader on the topic of sustainability in your career. If not you, then who?

LiveStream: <https://stream.libraries.rutgers.edu/live/>

Questions? Contact Connie Pascal: cpascal@comminfo.rutgers.edu

Open to the public - no RSVP required

RUTGERS

School of Communication and Information

comminfo.rutger.edu

@RutgersCommInfo

#RUSCI

#RutgersCommInfo