EDUCATION

- 2009      Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics, University of California Los Angeles
Dissertation: How Individuals Diagnosed with Frontotemporal Dementia and Caregivers Manage Interaction examines the social behaviors and communication of neurological disorder in the context of home and community
Committee: John H. Schumann, John Heritage, Charles Goodwin, Hongyin Tao
- 2004      M.A. (terminal degree) in Applied Linguistics, University of California Los Angeles
Thesis: Usage-based Argument Structure in English: A Matter of Finding Indexical Ground
- 2001      B.A. in Linguistics and Psychology (minor), University of Pennsylvania

CERTIFICATES & LANGUAGE EDUCATION

- 2003      California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST)
- 2002      Diplôme d'études en langue française (DELF), French National Ministry of Education
- 2002      Test du connaissance du français, French National Ministry of Education, Level 5 (Superior) of six possible levels (Level 1: Elementary – Level 6: Advanced Superior)

SCHOLARSHIP

My work consists of three intertwining threads guided by my interest in patient engagement and patient-clinician relationships, particularly as they relate to patient well-being and mental health communication. (1) The first thread is situated in community contexts and examines the situated interactional practices of patients, most notably of individuals diagnosed with neurological and psychiatric disorders as well as children to provide a grounded perspective on competence, everyday functioning, and patient engagement. (2) The second thread is situated in clinic contexts and is informed by my work in the community. Using both video-based analyses and documenting perceptions of patients and clinicians, this work helps identify (in)effective communication practices in clinic contexts and provides an ecologically sensitive lens on applications of patient- and relationship-centeredness, shared decision-making, and the use of health information technology and decision support strategies in the clinic. (3) The third thread highlights patient engagement in the collective sense by exploring the practices, perceptions, and ethics of community-engagement in health research. Collectively, my work informs our understanding of best practices, intervention development, and implementation of interventions to support patient involvement and contains a strong applied component, particularly to inquiry in health services.

UNDERGRADUATE

Mental Health Communication

- Department of Communication, Rutgers University: Fall 2021, Spring 2022
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.9/5 (averaged across sections); Course quality: 4.82/5 (averaged across sections)

Patient-Provider Communication

- Department of Communication, Rutgers University: Fall 2014, 2015, 2016, 2019, 2024; Spring 2015, 2016, 2019, 2020
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.75/5 (averaged across sections); Course quality: 4.60/5 (averaged across sections)

Health Literacy

- Department of Communication, Rutgers University: Fall 2016, Spring 2018
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.72/5; Course quality: 4.58/5 (averaged across sections)

Communication Research (large undergraduate lecture; approx. 225-250 students)

- Department of Communication, Rutgers University: Fall 2017, 2018, 2020, 2021, 2023, 2024; Spring 2018, 2019, 2023, 2026
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.42/5; Course quality: 4.14/5 (averaged across sections)

Language Behavior and Communication

- Department of Communication, Rutgers University: Fall 2013, 2014, 2015; Spring 2014, 2015
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.56/5 (averaged across sections); Course quality: 4.31/5 (averaged across sections)

Methodologies for Second/Foreign/Heritage Language

- Department of Applied Linguistics, UCLA: Summer 2012
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.75/9; Overall course evaluation: 8.25/9

Introduction to Language Learning and Teaching

- Department of Applied Linguistics, UCLA: Summer 2009, 2010

- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.90/9 (averaged across sections); Overall course evaluation: 8.25/9 (averaged across sections)

Understanding Sociality through Neuropathology: A Multi-method Approach

- Office of Instructional Development, UCLA: Spring 2009
- Course curriculum selected by Collegium of University Teaching Fellows advisory board to be offered as one of 14 undergraduate seminars taught by advanced graduate students
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.70/9; Overall course evaluation: 8.33/9

High Intermediate Writing

- American Language Institute, University of Southern California: Fall 2009

The Nature of Learning

- Department of Applied Linguistics, UCLA: Winter, 2008; Summer 2008
- Elective course that fulfilled university Writing II requirement
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.90/9 (averaged across sections); Overall course evaluation: 8.31/9 (averaged across sections)

Conversation and Interaction

- World Languages and Cultures, UCLA: Summer 2008
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.00/9; Overall course evaluation: 7.09/9

Talk and the Body

- Department of Applied Linguistics/Anthropology/Communication Studies, UCLA: Fall 2007
- Elective course that fulfilled university Writing II requirement
- Overall instructor evaluation: 9.00/9; Overall course evaluation: 8.40/9

Language and Gender

- Department of Applied Linguistics/Anthropology/Communication Studies, UCLA: Spring 2007
- Elective course that fulfilled university Writing II requirement
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.93/9; Overall course evaluation: 7.80/9

English Stress & Intonation

- UCLA: Spring 2005; Summer 2005, 2006, 2007
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.24/9 (averaged across sections); Overall course evaluation: 7.64/9 (averaged across sections)

English Grammar and Style for Academic Purposes

- UCLA: Summer 2006
- Elective for developmental writers

- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.50/9; Overall course evaluation: 8.30/9

Academic Approaches to University Writing

- UCLA: Fall 2003 – Summer 2004, Summer 2005; Winter 2005; Summer 2012
- Required developmental writing course for undergraduates
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.27/9 (averaged across sections); Overall course evaluation: 7.79/9 (averaged across sections)

GRADUATE

Communication and Society (asynchronous online)

- School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University: Spring, 2024
- Teaching effectiveness: ; Course quality:

Communication and Society (in-person)

- School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University: Spring, 2020
- Teaching effectiveness: 5/5; Course quality: 5/5

Patient-Provider Communication (Cross-listed PhD/Masters)

- School of Communication and Information, Rutgers University: Fall 2018, 2019, 2023
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.50/5; Course quality: 4.25/5

Patient-Provider Communication (Masters)

- Masters in Communication and Media, Rutgers University: Spring 2016, 2023; Fall 2020
- Masters in Health Communication and Information: Spring 2022, 2023; Fall 2023
- Teaching effectiveness: 4.94/5; Course quality: 5/5

Advanced English for Academic Purposes

- Writing Programs, UCLA: Fall, 2006; Summer 2012
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.37/9 (averaged across sections); Overall course evaluation: 8.11/9 (averaged across sections)

Teaching Assistant Consultant (PhD)

- World Languages and Cultures, UCLA: Spring 2008
- Required course for all new graduate student TAs in Applied Linguistics; revised course curricula; counseled and provided sounding board for both new and experienced TAs
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.20/9; Overall course evaluation: 8.60/9

Advanced Academic Writing for Graduate Students

- World Languages and Cultures, UCLA: Fall 2006

Communication Strategies for International Teaching Assistants

- World Languages and Cultures, UCLA: Fall 2005
- Overall instructor evaluation: 8.30/9
